FREE WOOL FIGHT BY OHIOANS

House Democrats Meet at Call of the Ohio Congressmen

PROMISE FIGHT TO END

Wool Men Agree on Duty of 15 Per Cent on Raw Wool—Claim President Made Mistake in Insisting on Schedule.

Washington, April 14.—President Wilson believes the tariff bill meets the general approval of the country that, no healthy business will be interrupted and that while in most cases the cost of living will not be immediately reduced the consumer will feel at once the benefit of a reduction in the sugar duty.

These views are expressed today by the president in a talk with newspaper men. He said his main reason for desiring a reduction on sugar was that the consumer deserved it.

The president declared that arrangements by which prices were fixed would surely be made impossible when a truly competitive situation was created and that the public would get the benefit very promptly in the case of sugar because he knew competitive elements were ready to contest.

It was suggested to the president many Ohio Democrats in congress felt that free wool would be ruinous to the woolen industry. Mr. Wilson said he had been trying to inform himself as much as possible on that subject but he did not feel their fears were justified by facts.

Having withstood the test of vigorous opposition to the sugar schedule Saturday indications were today that no material change proposed to the tariff bill could get enough support to be effective not excepting free raw wool against which a definite opposition has developed. Consideration of the wool question probably will not be reached for several days.

Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee was ordered to bed today by his physician who declared he had a slight fever and was in a danger of break down owing to overwork on the tariff. He may be confined for several days. His illness however did not interfere with the House caucus today which will continue work.

Newark Sends Shipment of Cooking Stoves Monday To Zanesville Sufferers

Newark is tonight sending thirty new four-hole gas cooking ranges to Zanesville flood sufferers along with other supplies. The committee bought these stoves from the Wehrle Company. Mr. Wehrle was very generous in fixing the price.

St. Louisville is today making a splendid shipment of provisions and supplies to Zanesville.

The Advocate has turned over to the Flood Relief Committee of the Board of Trade $1100 to date. The total amount of the Board of Trade's relief fund up to noon Monday was $1738.25, of which with the exception of a few hundred dollars has been used in buying supplies for Zanesville. A detailed report will be made when the work is finished. The sum does not show the amount of relief work done by Newark by any means. Many have sent remittances direct to Zanesville and hundreds have joined in sending cash, household goods or provisions. Mr. P. S. Neighbor took $200 to Zanesville, the churches, the King's Daughters, lodges, and other organizations are doing much. The Elks were especially active and generous. The Board of Trade committee first sent a car load of provisions and at the same time the Elks sent a number of boats, boatmen and nurses. A few days later the committee sent a big shipment of rubber boots, broomstick mops and shovels. Last week a splendid shipment of iron beds and bedding was sent and today thirty fine new Wehrle gas cooking stoves valued at over $600 was sent to Zanesville. Mr. Wehrle sold the stoves to the committee away below the cost of manufacture.

The Zanesville relief committee asks for gas and coal cooking stoves and complete bed outfits.

Hundreds of people have generously responded to the Advocate's call for help for Zanesville and all last

Zanesville Appreciative

Mr. A. E. Starr, chairman of the Zanesville citizens' relief association, in a letter to C. H. Spencer says:

"I fully appreciate the keen interest that you and the Advocate have manifested for the unfortunate people of our city and for the splendid work which you have done and are still doing. In the name of the people of Zanesville and of our association I sincerely thank you for the influence you have exerted to bring our people so much prompt relief and comfort."

Washington, D. C., April 14.—Thirty-five House Democrats, answering the call sent out by the Ohio legislators, met Saturday and pledged themselves to fight to the end to defeat the free wool clause in the Underwood tariff bill.

The wool men agreed that the duty of 15 per cent on the raw product set by the Underwood committee before the bill was revised at the White House is about the proper rate for the protection of the American farmer.

Most of the representatives feel that a little higher rate, say 20 or 25 per cent, would be more acceptable, but the 15 per cent was agreed upon as the figure standing the most chances of winning.

There was declaration of insurgency by the wool men. They decided to make a straight out-and-out fight, allying themselves with no other interests to convince the House Democracy that the President made a mistake when he insisted upon free raw wool.

The most significant feature of the impromptu caucus was the refusal of the wool representatives of a proffer of a mutual arrangement with the Representatives opposed to the Underwood treatment of sugar.

The wool people talked it over and decided to do no log-rolling. From a party standpoint it was a patriotic sacrifice, for there is little doubt that an alliance of wool Democrats and sugar Democrats, voting with the Republican minority in the House, would be able to place a permanent duty on both wool and sugar.

The wool men, however, decided that, in view of the charge against the Republican party and the popular impression that all tariffs are made by log-rolling, they would subject the Democratic party to no such charge. It also was rather craftily figured that an unsupported fight on the part of the wool people will command a respect and sympathy from the Democratic membership that would be impossible if the wool and sugar interests were suspected of having a working agreement in the House.

Consequently, word was sent back to the representatives opposing the Underwood sugar rate that the wool representatives will accept and welcome all voters for a duty on wool from sugar representatives, and in turn a number of wool men expect to vote against the sugar item, yet an agreement delivering the solid wool

Washington, April 14.—When President Woodrow Wilson stepped before the joint session of House and Senate April 8 to deliver in person an address to Congress, he broke precedents of more than one hundred years. Yet it is the intention of the President to continue smashing precedents. He will appear before both houses many times in his administration.

The report comes from the White House that he will not appear before Congress every time he has a communication to make, but will reserve this method for statements which he purposes making very impressive. Messages concerning routine matters will

Stoves are Needed.

The Relief Association of Zanesville asks the Advocate to invest its cash contributions for flood sufferers in complete bed outfits, gas and coal cooking stoves. The following letter was received Monday morning:

"Your letter to Mr. A. E. Starr has been brought to my attention. First accept the heartfelt thanks of the Citizens' Relief Association for your neighborly interest in our behalf. In regard to the cash subscriptions you have received, it was taken up and thoroughly discussed by the Executive Committee of the Citizens' Relief Association at their meeting this afternoon.

"In looking over the situation as it is at the present, and gathering data from the fact that we are rehabilitating the people of Zanesville, it was decided that you invest your cash with your home merchants, and beg to advise you that the articles of supplies that we are most in need of are complete bed outfits, gas and coal cooking stoves, in the proportion of two-thirds gas and one-third coal.

"Anything that you can do for us to relieve the situation here, as we are unable to purchase these articles in this town, we will appreciate. Again thanking you for your help at this time, we are,

Very sincerely yours, week daily shipments of supplies were made. East Newark people may leave supplies at D. C. Metz's store. Conrad's grocery is the up-town station, where supplies may be left. Cash may be sent to the Advocate. Those who want shipping tags may get them at this office. Zanesville needs the help Newark is giving and the relief committee is very grateful for what has already been done. Newark can, should and will do more.

LOST OUT IN FINAL HEARING

Verdict in Pullman Case is Against Ex-Sheriff Linke

INTERSTATE COMMERCE

Interfered With is Opinion of Judge Sater of the United States Court—Several Years of Litigation.

Judge J. E. Sater, in the United States court at Columbus has handed down an opinion on final hearing in the case of the Pullman company against Wm. Linke, former sheriff of Licking county, and others, which involves the attachment of the sleeping car.

The car left Columbus for Washington City. Some of the passengers had bought tickets through to Washington and others for intermediate points, and had also purchased sleeping car accommodations. When the car reached Newark it was cut out of the train and shifted to another track, to be picked up by the through train from Chicago, which came twenty minutes later.

While standing on the track awaiting its coupling on to the eastbound train Linke as sheriff, attached the car. The attachment had been issued by the state court in a case brought by M. M. Gillett, Col. Gillett and his counsel aided the sheriff in seizing the car. It was chained to the track and permission to move it was denied.

The attachment of the car delayed the through train for a short time and all of the passengers on the car were compelled to alight and accept such provision as could be made for them on New York sleepers.

The Pullman company claims that because the car was actually employed in interstate commerce and in transit to another state, loaded with interstate passengers, it could not be attached. As the sheriff and Gillett refused to deliver the car, but retained it against the Pullman company's demands, a suit was brought charging Linke, Gillett and his counsel with an unlawful conversion of the car.

The opinion states that while in-

The Last Two Presidents Who Have Directly Addressed Congress

WOODROW WILSON, 1913

JOHN ADAMS, 1801

Had Thomas Jefferson been an orator, Woodrow Wilson might not have startled the members of Congress and interested the country by his personal appearance before the joint session April 8. President John Adams, following in the footsteps of Washington, the first President, appeared before Congress often, and the custom was settled. Little was thought of it.

But Jefferson was a very poor public speaker. He knew that he would not make a good appearance in such a role, and he adopted the plan of writing his communication to Congress to be read by prose clerks. No other President undertook to revive Washington's method after Jefferson during eight years made another popular. Four years have been fought by the United States and civilization has advanced from the stage coach to the aeroplane since the custom, now revived by President Wilson, was forgotten.

CARRIED ON THE PILOT OF B. & O. ENGINE

Young Girl and Male Companion Struck By Passenger Engine Carrying Newark Crew.

Standing on the pilot of an engine drawing B. & O. passenger train No. 15, and supporting the helpless form of her male companion, 18-year-old Mary Farber and Frederick Lutz, 21, were rescued Saturday night only when the train, in charge of a Newark crew, pulled up to the station in Mansfield. The couple alighted on the pilot of the engine when their buggy was struck at a crossing five miles east of Mansfield. Lutz sustained injuries from which he died Sunday night. The heroic young woman was only slightly hurt. Both resided in Lexington. Engineer Ayers of Newark did not know his train had struck anything until he made the Mansfield stop. As the train pulled into the station the terrified screams of the young woman attracted immediate assistance and both she and Lutz were removed to a hospital. The couple was returning to their home in Lexington after attending a dance at Ontario.

WARNING IS SOUNDED BY MARSHALL

New York, April 14.—Though spoken in an even, undramatic tone a startling suggestion came from the lips of Vice President Thomas R. Marshall at the dinner of the National Democratic club Saturday night, when he sounded a warning that the laws of descent might be repealed so that colossal fortunes would revert to the state if their possessors did not alter their attitude toward the Government and society at large.

FUNERAL OF J. P. MORGAN HELD TODAY

New York, April 14.—Funeral services over the body of the late J. P. Morgan were held at 10 o'clock today in St. George's Protestant Episcopal church, where he had worshipped for half a century.

Afterward a special train conveyed the funeral party to Hartford, Conn., for final services at the Morgan mausoleum at Cedar Hill cemetery.

Blanketed by 5,000 red roses, Mr. Morgan's favorite flower, the coffin left the Morgan home library, where the body had lain in state since Friday night, for the church shortly before ten o'clock.

A vast throng of 150,000 people lined the funeral party into the church. Fifteen hundred persons, one of the most noted gatherings New York has seen in many years, were crowded into the church.

Rev. Dr. Karl Bollard, pastor of the church, was in charge of the service. He was assisted by a number of other clergymen, including Rev. Dr. J. P. Morgan, who died shortly before his death.

Dead at 67.—A cosmopolitan congregation attended memorial services for the late J. P. Morgan in Westminster abbey today.

HEAD CRUSHED WITH A HAMMI R

Chicago, April 14.—George Dietz, owner of a woman's tailoring establishment, was found murdered in his home on Aldine avenue. His head had been crushed and he is believed to have been beaten to death with a hammer, which was found in the room. A letter found in the room indicated that revenge was the motive for the crime. Dietz was wealthy and lived with his wife who discovered the crime.

PUPILS RESUME STUDIES

In the Zanesville Schools After Enforced Vacation

TROOPS STILL ON DUTY

Water Furnished to All Sections of the City—Promise of Electric Lights in a Short Time.

Zanesville, April 14.—Nine school buildings were re-opened this morning and the pupils resumed their studies after an enforced vacation of three weeks. Thousands of text books were destroyed by the flood and many of the buildings were under water.

The three companies of troops now doing flood duty here will remain for a few days longer.

Saturday evening the city officials put $9,000 into circulation among the laboring class of people. About 750 men were paid for work upon the streets.

Water is now being furnished all sections of the city and the electric light system will soon be in operation.

Zanesville bank deposits are showing increases.

The relief work in Zanesville under the personal supervision of the executive committee and Red Cross Agent Cooke is progressing rapidly and favorably. As fast as the carloads of supplies are received they are immediately distributed to the different stations and then given to the people who need them on orders issued by the members of the executive committee.

Word was received by Safety Director George Orr that Alliance had succeeded in making up another car of bedding and beds which would be sent to Zanesville immediately. A carload of beds and other supplies was received here Friday from that city.

Contributions and supplies still continue to pour in. They will be used in the work of rehabilitation of the homes in the flood district. The work of securing the necessary data about the condition of flood sufferers under the supervision of the executive committee and the Red Cross agents is rapidly nearing completion.

Fears are felt for the sanitary conditions of Zanesville as the weather grows warmer and citizens are asked to co-operate with the board of health in every particular to keep down the spread of diseases of any nature.

The sum of $22,746 has been deposited in the bank to the credit of the city relief association.

HON. W. E. HAAS FLOOR LEADER OF THE SENATE

Columbus, Ohio, April 14.—The position of administrative whip falls to Senator W. E. Haas of Delaware. Haas replaces Senator William Green of Coshocton who has acted as the Democratic floor leader in the session, but whose influence has somewhat faded through his veiled attacks on the governor in the consideration of the Thomas coal screen bill investigation this week, coupled with other breaks made by him.

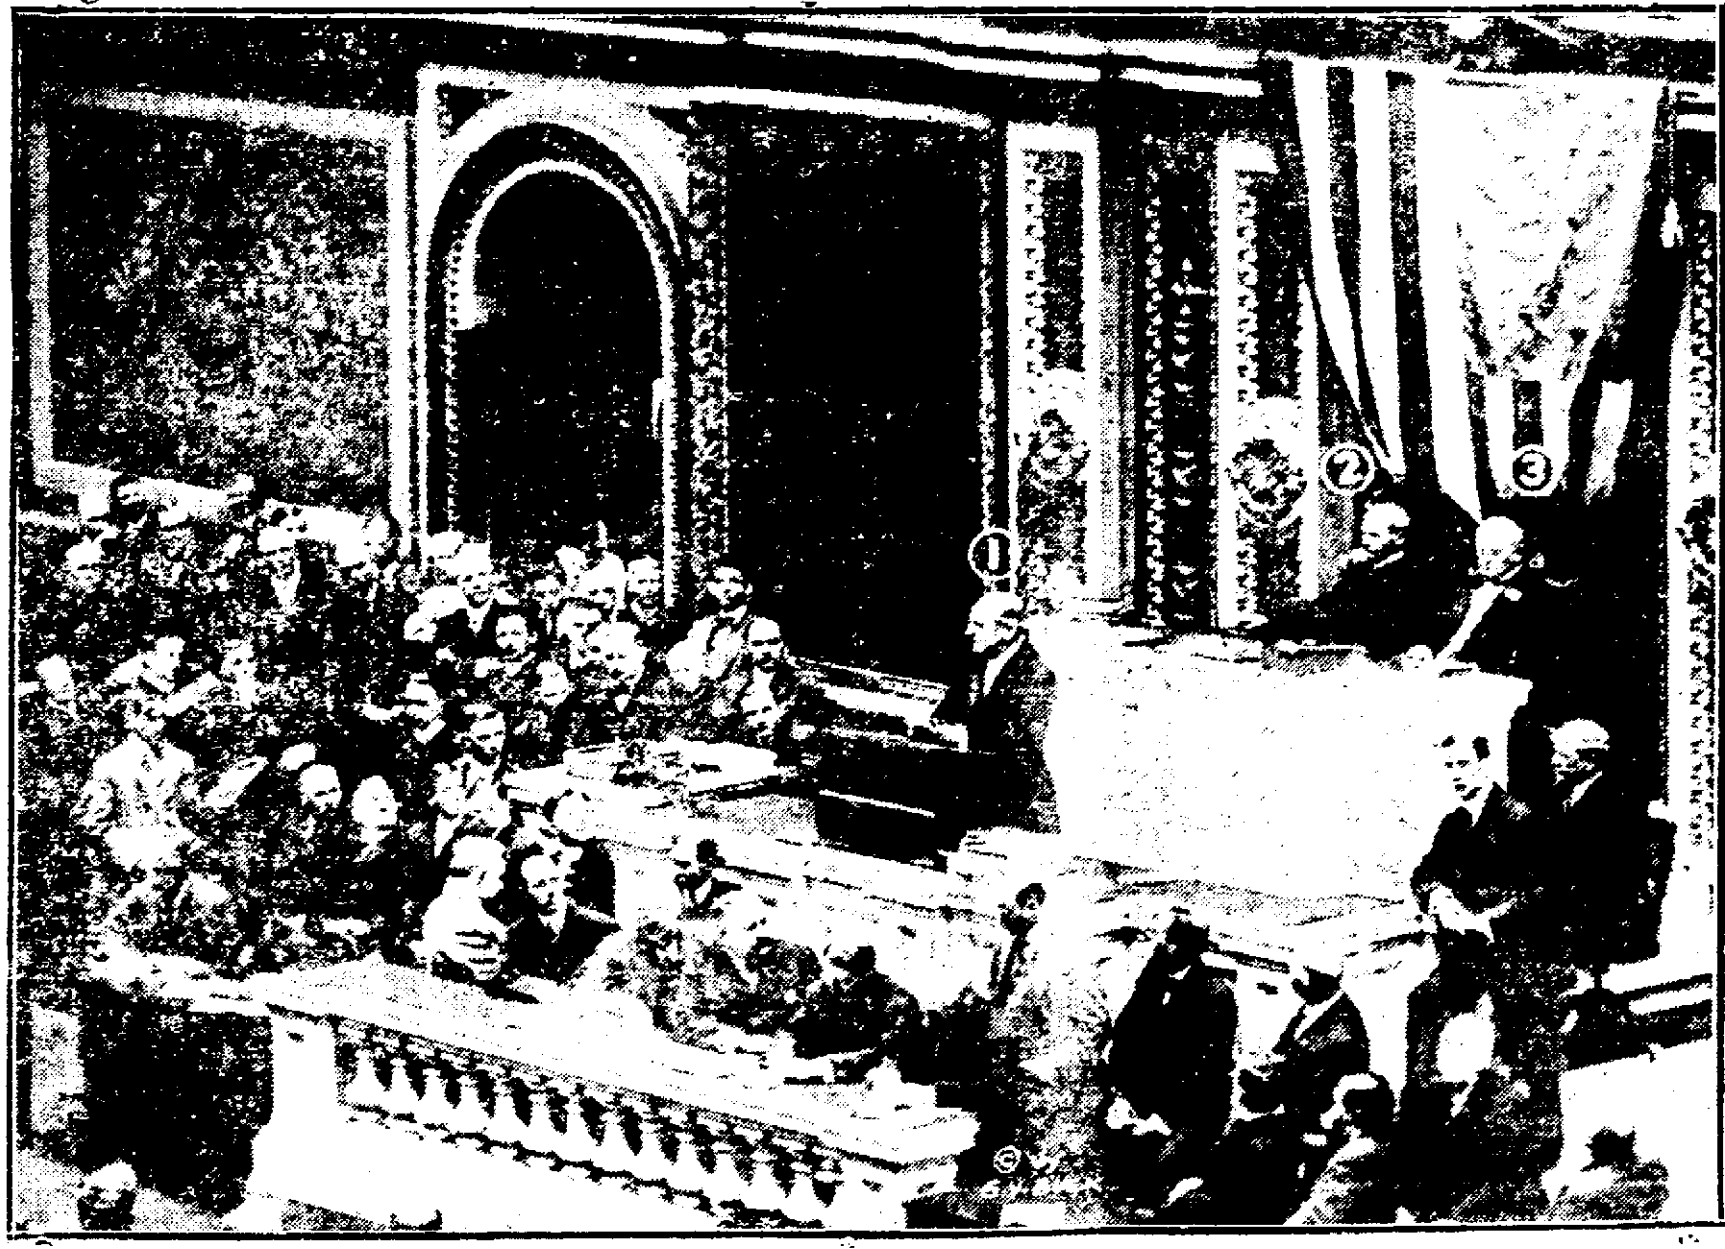

While Green is to be allowed to continue as spokesman, Haas is entrusted with the task of carrying out the governor's orders on administration measures.

Following the outline given by Gov. Cox with only a few modifications, Senator Haas today introduced the flood relief commission bill, aimed to legalize the volunteer commission named by the governor in the height of the recent trouble. The commission is to continue for two years and be composed of five members.

ARCHIE S. WHITE CONTRIBUTES $1,000 TO THE PLAYGROUND

The board of education Monday morning received a check for $1,000 from Archie S. White of Cincinnati, formerly of this city, to be added to the playground fund. This swells the total amount subscribed to nearly $5,500.

The new athletic field and playground will be named "The White Athletic Field" in recognition of the former Newark man's generosity.

President Woodrow Wilson Before Joint Session of Congress.

Washington, April 14.—When President Woodrow Wilson stepped before the joint session of House and Senate April 8 to deliver in person an address to Congress, he broke precedents of more than one hundred years. Yet it is the intention of the President to continue smashing precedents. He will appear before both houses many times in his administration.

The report comes from the White House that he will not appear before Congress every time he has a communication to make, but will reserve this method for statements which he purposes making very impressive. Messages concerning routine matters will be sent to the president and read by the House of every new session, and discontinue the custom of reports of department heads to the subject with him.

The appearance of the President will not be a surprise to the country, but an audience such as is seldom seen in the House. Most of the diplomats will not be in Washington today, which argument, women will get on the first, could reach the galleries heard him.

Prominent Sunday School Workers Here May 23-24

One of the finest programs in the entire state for a county Sunday school convention will be that which the committee of the Livingston county association has prepared for the meeting to be held in Newark, May 23 and 24. This is not local business, but the word goes from the state headquarters at Columbus, where all programs are submitted before their adoption.

Prominent among the speakers will be Dr. H. B. Smith of Nashville, Tenn., who has been in Ohio at that time. Dr. Smith is an enthusiastic of training and is the president of the Episcopal Church in South.

One of the best known workers in the church.

Another speaker will be Miss Edna Hart, of Cincinnati, a state representative of the Hartford School of Religious Education.

The state staff will be represented by G. W. Smith, the secretary, who will probably discuss the needs of the Sunday School as a social institution. Mr. Smith has just finished his first year as secretary and among other notable achievements has freed the association of a large debt, which has been hanging over it for 15 years.

At the county convention delegates will be chosen to the state meeting.

GROVE CITY DRY

Grove City, Ohio, has been declared a dry town. The residents of the town have voted to prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages within the town limits. This decision was reached after a long and heated debate at a town meeting. The residents of Grove City are proud of their decision and believe it will help to improve the health and morals of the community.

(Special to the Advocate.) Chillicothe, O., April 11.—Governor Cox and the Red Cross representatives who visited Chillicothe a day or two ago were very free to state that the damage done by the flood to our streets and to residence property exceeded that of any other city in the United States in Ohio.

The loss of life and property was heavy in Dayton, Columbus and Hamilton and the property loss was heavier in Zanesville, but in proportion to the size of the towns the loss and damage here was heavier. The accompanying illustrations made from photographs give an idea of the damage wrought by the flood in Chillicothe.

Chillicothe, a town of 10,000 people, was hit hard by the flood. The water was high and the wind was strong, causing a great deal of damage to the buildings and the streets. The residents of Chillicothe are now trying to clean up the damage and rebuild their homes. The Red Cross is helping them in this work and is providing them with food and clothing. The residents of Chillicothe are grateful for the help they are receiving and are determined to rebuild their town and make it a better place than it was before the flood.

Washington, April 11.—John Brooks Henderson, former United States senator from Missouri, and author of the thirteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, died Saturday at a hospital here from a complication of diseases. He was 86 years old.

Mr. Henderson was born near Danville, Va. When he was six years old, his parents moved to Missouri, where he was admitted to the bar.

President Grant in 1875 appointed Mr. Henderson special United States attorney to prosecute the "Whiskey Ring" in St. Louis. He was chairman of the Republican national convention which nominated James G. Blaine in 1884.

WIFE'S AFFECTION WORTH 15 CENTS

Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus Will Exhibit In Newark on April 28

Floyd King, general press agent of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, was in the city Monday making advance arrangements for the big show's appearance in this city on Monday, April 28, at which time two performances will be given, afternoon and evening. Accompanying Mr. King was one of the new advertising cars carrying a crew of 14 men, all of whom are quartered at the Hotel on Second street.

Advocate readers will remember that during the late flood excitement a story was sent out from Peru, Ind., that the big circus had been destroyed by high waters and that 150 people had been drowned. The story was greatly exaggerated as were many stories appearing at that time, mostly wired out by irresponsible newspaper correspondents. Instead of 150 people losing their lives at Peru the number dwindled down to seven.

The winter home of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus is at Peru, and when the only damage to the wagons was in being littered with mud. They have all been thoroughly overhauled and placed in first class condition. None of the tents or apparatus was injured in the least.

The Hagenbeck-Wallace shows have always been a welcome visitor in Newark and have always attracted thousands of visitors to the city on circus day. The entertainment afforded compares favorably with any of the big tented exhibitions in the country and indeed is far superior to many of them. They carry three trains of 42 cars and the show this season is said to be bigger and better than ever.

The big show comes to Newark from Marion, Ind., a distance of several hundred miles, leaving Marion on Saturday night and arriving in Newark on Sunday afternoon. They are forced to make the long jump, cancelling several cities on account of conditions arising from the flood, among the water raised here it caught the animal house it reached a depth of four feet and caused the loss of six lions, four bengal tigers and two pumas. These have all been replaced. The circus also suffered a loss of four elephants but these were not drowned. They stood in four feet of water for three days with a herd of 21 others and the four succumbed to exposure, three inches of snow having fallen in the meantime. Of the 600 horses not a single one was lost and the cancellations being Dayton and Columbus. After leaving Newark the show will make a week stand at Philadelphia.

It is hoped that the weather will be favorable and it is a certainty that the big tent will be crowded to the doors. The exhibition will positively take place, rain or shine.

GRAND JURY REPORTED 16 TRUE BILLS

The April grand jury filed its report with Judge T. B. Fulton in common pleas court late Monday afternoon, reporting sixteen true bills out of 24 cases considered. Ten cases were ignored and 148 witnesses were examined in the seven days the body was in session.

Among other things, the grand jurors recommended immediate improvements in the county jail, guarded doors for the corridors and painting, also recommending means for stopping communication between prisoners.

Wesley Montgomery, foreman, presented the indictments and those made public are:

Arthur Craig and Nonnet Barnett, alias Babe McGossett, robbery.
George Koonish, burglary, two counts.
Lawrence A. Schroeder, obtaining money by false pretense.
John Lake, shooting to wound.
Fred Johnson, rape.
Griffith Jones, shooting to wound.
Thomas W. Leah, embezzlement.

FREE WOOL FIGHT

vote to those fighting free sugar and vice versa was impossible.

Representative Ashbrook, who has attained a leadership of those fighting the free wool item, addressed the meeting at some length, declaring that opposition to free wool in the preliminary skirmishes which does not continue to the length of voting against any omnibus tariff bill containing a free wool provision is all bluff and banter. The test, he declared, would come when the bill is before the House for passage.

As a result of Saturday's meeting the wool people for the first time began to hope that they will be able to defeat free wool in the House. Only 35 representatives turned out to the meeting, but the notices for the caucus were mailed late and many Representatives opposed to free wool did not visit their offices early enough to read their notices in time for the meeting.

In the general caucus Saturday a number of Democrats assured those who attended the meeting of their hearty support, so that Ashbrook and others canvassing the situation estimated that the anti-free wool group will number about 75 Democrats.

With the defeat of the sugar men by a decisive vote in the caucus the wool battle takes the center of the congressional stage and a nucleus of 75 votes is a very respectable opposition. It is entirely possible that with votes which will be attracted from protection Democrats the wool people can muster enough strength to pass a 15 per cent amendment with the help of the Republicans in the House. From now on the wool representatives will bend every effort to enlist support among the Democrats.

Another factor which may aid in final victory is the attitude of the ways and means committee. From their canvass of the situation the wool men are convinced that Underwood and his associates will not put up an uncompromising opposition to an amendment restoring to raw wool a duty of 15 per cent.

That was the figure agreed upon by the full ways and means committee and it was only on the insistence of the President that the duty was finally stricken off.

Word was brought to the wool caucus Saturday that the president will not be disposed to veto the tariff bill simply because it contains a 15 per cent duty on raw wool.

Those who attended the wool meeting included Representatives from Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, New Mexico and California. The Ohio group consisted of Representatives Ashbrook, Bathrick, Francis, Post, Claypool, Sharp and Sherwood. Messrs. Gard and Whitacre, both of whom will vote for a wool amendment, were not present. Mr. Bathrick acted as Chairman of the meeting and Mr. Ashbrook as secretary.

Mr. Bathrick announced the plans to be followed when Schedule K is called upon by the Democratic caucus. If amendments giving higher rates are voted down, he will submit a 15 per cent amendment to the raw wool item. But whether free wool is defeated or not he will demand that manufacturers of wool be placed on the free list, claiming that the schedule now is drawn in favor of the woolen manufacturer.

Representative Sharp of Elyria supported the view of Bathrick, saying that he thought the rate on all wool should be 30 per cent instead of 15.

ELEVENTH ST. BRIDGE TO BE RE-ENFORCED

Following a settlement of the case of the city against Motorman Richards in Mayor Swartz's court Monday morning, announcement was made that the company would join the county commissioners in an effort to strengthen the Eleventh Street bridge over Raccoon creek so the heavy interurban cars can be operated over that line.

For several years past the company has sent all cars from the barns down town over the Church Street line. Frequent protests have been made by Church street residents because of the heavy traffic on this residence street. It is claimed that the vibration caused by the big cars has been destructive to gas mantles and brick-work.

A year ago the city started a campaign against the company in an effort to require the motorman operating the cars to reduce the speed on this street. The city was successful. Last Tuesday, Richards was ordered to appear before Mayor Swartz charged with exceeding the speed limit and operating his car without a pilot, while bringing an interurban car down town.

With the Eleventh Street bridge repaired and strengthened these cars will be sent to Main street and over that track to the central part of the city.

RAILROADS TO RESUME THROUGH SERVICE TODAY

Monday witnessed the opening of direct transportation on the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio railroads running east and south from Newark. The clearing of a tie-up that has continued for over fifteen days, since the disastrous floods throughout the state, will unload several freight warehouses and may indicate the early resumption of operation of manufacturing facilities which have been closed on account of no shipping facilities.

Sunday morning Pennsylvania passenger train No. 7, westbound, was able to cross the span at Tandal, formerly Franklin station, between Trinary and Cohocton. This bridge went out early in the flood and has necessitated considerable additional mileage being required by the Pennsylvania lines in detouring freight and passenger trains over the Pittsburgh division. Regular trains are now making the run, although the schedule is still showing some delays.

Monday afternoon B. & O. train No. 183, on the Newark-Wheeling division, was able to make the Zanesville bridge, opening direct transportation to Wheeling. For a considerable time the company was transferring passengers for points beyond Zanesville so they were compelled to walk from one side of the town to the other. Replacing of the bridge over the Muskingum eliminated this inconvenience.

Perishable freight has been given the preference and other matter for shipment has been held in Columbus or other convenient points pending opening of the damaged rights of way.

From the division offices of the B. & O. it was announced Monday that the O. & N. K. may be open to Parkersburg this week.

trans-shipment of passengers and freight while in transit.

The opinion states that the car had entered upon a lengthy and continuous journey bearing interstate passengers, who were in no wise connected with or concerned in the controversy between Gillett and the Pullman company, and who had acquired by purchase from the railroad company and the Pullman company for the whole of their respective journeys, the valuable right of transportation and sleeping car accommodations on that particular car; and that the switching of it from one train to another, even though it may have stood for a few minutes on the track, did not take the car out of interstate commerce and was but a temporary suspension of its onward movement, of which the switching was an essential part. Judgment is allowed in favor of the Pullman company for the conversion of the car.

It will be remembered that Col. Gillett sued the Pullman company to recover damages for the loss of luggage while enroute to Newark from the East. In connection with the suit, an attachment was issued in the Common Pleas court and it was the execution of this order of attachment which led the sheriff to chain

O. C. PARRILL-ON SPECIAL DUTY FOR THE PENNSY

O. C. Parrill, local freight agent for the Pennsylvania railroad, who was called out on the road for special duty during the flood troubles, is expected to return the latter part of this week, when the greater part of repair work on this division will have been cared for.

Mr. Parrill left the day following the flood and was stationed at Tandal, near Cohocton, where he was placed in charge of the commissary department dealing supplies to the work crews. He has been on the job constantly since that time, in the steady rush to get the road in operating condition.

MAKES ATTEMPT UPON LIFE OF KING ALFONSO

Madrid, Spain, April 14—King Alfonso narrowly escaped death Sunday afternoon being the victim of an anarchist's attempt upon his life. Three shots were fired at the king by Rafael Allegro, an anarchist, who was overpowered by the king's staff. Throughout it all the king was cool and collected and after seeing that the men had been secured raised himself in the stirrups turned to the crowd which had collected, gave a military salute and shouted in a ringing voice: "Long Live Spain."

A crowd made a determined attempt to lynch Allegro who was rushed into a house and kept there until an auto ambulance, escorted by mounted police, transferred him to police headquarters.

This morning King Alfonso took a ride through the park and was enthusiastically greeted by the crowds who were pleased that he had escaped the bullets of the anarchist. Allegro was recently rejected by the military service. His life is of noble birth.

POLITICAL STRIKE OF THE SOCIALISTS BEGINS IN BELGIUM

Brussels, Bel., April 14—The vast political strike planned by the Belgium Socialist trades union began at dawn today. The first workmen to take part in the movement were the night shifts of the mines and mills, throughout the country. At least 250,000 men laid down their tools during the morning. The strike is complete in such places as the mining districts, but is scarcely discernible in some localities.

FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF TITANIC DISASTER

A year ago today the Titanic was the pride of the ocean, speeding westward on her maiden voyage to the New World, filled with happy people, care-free and joyous in the assurance that this man-made monster of the deeps could weather every storm and fly her flags in the face of every possible disaster. That night disaster came, and cruel nature again proved the futility of man's proud boasts.

What now is the Titanic, after a year on the bottom of the ocean? Already, says a German scientist it is probably coated with deep sea growths. With the passing of the years it will be reduced to a fossilized state, and centuries hence it may sit up, and remnants will be washed ashore on the coasts.

In the year that has passed since the greatest of maritime disasters, many memorials have been erected or planned. Humble memorials mark the graves of the unknown dead buried in Halifax. Jack Phillips, wireless operator of the wrecked ship, will be remembered by a memorial fountain in New York. Earl Grey, former Governor-General of Canada, is at the head of a movement for building homes for women workers in London, as a memorial to W. T. Stead. A Titanic memorial church will be built in Philadelphia by a Russian Orthodox congregation. Another Stead memorial will take the form of a bronze medallion, to be placed on the Thames embankment. A memorial structure, planned for Potomac Park, Washington, will be erected to perpetuate the names of Mall, Archibald W. Butt and Frank W. Milot. A Widener memorial library will be erected at Harvard in honor of the Philadelphia millionaire who went down with the Titanic. Ida Straus, the heroic wife of the Jewish merchant, who chose to die rather than leave her husband, is remembered by a memorial tablet in New York.

The resignation of J. Bruce Ismay as president of the steamship company is another aftermath of the disaster. Capt. Rostron, the gallant commander of the rescue ship Carpathia, was awarded a medal by the United States Congress. Capt. Archibald Gracie, U. S. A., the last man to leave the Titanic and live, recently died as the probable cause of the exposure and mental anguish to which he was subjected.

Three survivors of the disaster who lost their husbands have become mothers. The most notable is Mrs. John Jacob Astor, whose infant son is John Jacob Astor, sixth. Mrs. Lucien P. Smith of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Adele Nasrallah of Cleveland, also became the mothers of Titanic babies.

Romance also developed out of the most terrible catastrophe of modern times, and culminated in the recent marriage of Karl H. Behr, the tennis player and Miss Helen M. Newsum, both passengers on the ill-fated vessel.

Damage suits amounting to millions of dollars for loss of life and property are now pending against the steamship company.

The heaviest claim is $1,000,000, asked by the widow of Henry B. Harris, the theatrical manager. Mrs. Jacques Fretelle, widow of the author, demands $500,000 compensation for the loss of her husband.

On Second Thought

The greatest distance is that traversed on the way in from the ball park after the home team loses.

We have noticed that the second club seldom is awakened from its slumber in order that it may be exhibited to critics.

Eph Weller says hell is full of men who gossiped about women.

A drinking man's sober intervals are devoted chiefly to recalling invitations extended while he was under the "influence."

A revolution is a successful rebellion. A rebellion is an unsuccessful revolution.

Tank Beverly says his prejudices are such that he should not care to sit on a jury empaneled for the purpose of trying a man on the charge of wearing side whiskers.

Buck Kilby says he has noticed that the wife of the best pool player in town nearly always has a steady job.

Every mother believes her daughter-in-law used questionable and unfair methods in securing a husband.

The Human Procession

BY O. TERRENCE

Alexander of Teck, 39 Today. Mentioned as Canada's Governor.

Among those mentioned for the post of Governor-General of Canada, in succession to the Duke of Connaught, is Queen Mary's handsome brother, His Serene Highness Prince Alexander Augustus Frederick William Alfred George of Teck, who today reaches his thirty-ninth milestone. The Prince is now a major in the Second Regiment of Life Guards, and recently passed an examination for promotion by which he is credited with "tactical fitness to command."

Prince Alexander was born in Kensington Palace, April 14, 1874, the third son of the late Duke of Teck and the late Princess Mary Adelaide. He has been in the army about twenty years. Shortly after joining the Seventh Hussars he was sent to South Africa, and took part in the relief of Kimberley and the advance of Lord Roberts on Pretoria. He was mentioned in the dispatches for gallantry in action, and honored with the distinguished Service Order. He married Princess Alice of Albany, who is nine years his junior. They have one child.

Dr. Roland P. Falkner, one of the most distinguished of American statisticians, was born in Bridgeport, Conn., forty-seven years ago today, the son of a clergyman. His public services have been many, and he has served as secretary of the International Monetary Conference, commissioner of education in Porto Rico, and chairman of the United States commission to Liberia. He was recently made a member of the joint commission to adjust the claims of land owners in the Panama canal zone.

Charles Henry Alexander Paget, sixth Marquis of Anglesey, will be the recipient of congratulations today on his twenty-eighth birthday. The title of Baron Paget, held by the young noble, dates from 1347. The first Marquis of Anglesey was granted in 1475, as a reward for his valor at the battle of Waterloo. He was a field-marshal and commanded the cavalry in that historic conflict. The second Marquis succeeded to the title on the death of his cousin, the fifth Marquis, in 1865. He married the eldest daughter of the Duke of Rutland, Lady Marjorie Manners. The Marquis's younger brother, Lord Victor William Paget, recently married Miss Olive Meatyard, known to Gaiety Theatre audiences as Olive May. Both Lord Anglesey and his mother, Lady Alexandra Paget, sought to dissuade the infatuated youth from marrying a woman of the stage, but all their efforts having failed, they showed themselves "good sports" and attended the wedding. The Marquis gave his younger brother a wedding gift of $500 a year. Lady Anglesey was conspicuously absent from the ceremony which allied the Pagets with the stage, and none of the Duke of Rutland's family was present.

Edgar Odell Lovett, who was chosen as first president of the Rice Institute, the great new institution of learning at Houston, Texas, was born at Shreve, Ohio, forty-two years ago today. The Rice Institute has a foundation of some eight million dollars, representing almost the entire fortune of William Marsh Rice, for whose murder lawyer Albert T. Patrick, recently pardoned, was sent to prison. Before

$100,000,000 From Income Tax Included in the Dem. Tariff Bill

Included in the democratic tariff revision bill introduced in congress is an income tax section which would require every resident of the United States who earns more than $4,000 a year to pay a tax of 1 per cent on his earnings in excess of the exemption. This would not require the man who earns only $4,000 to pay a tax, but it would demand that the individual who earns $4,100, for example, to pay into the government treasury an annual tax of 1 per cent on $100, or $1.

The bill also would provide higher rates of taxation for persons with large incomes, adding a surtax of 1 per cent additional on earnings in excess of $50,000, and 3 per cent additional on earnings in excess of $100,000. Under the surtax provisions the man who earns only $20,000 would pay to the government each year at the rate of 1 per cent on $10,000 ($4,000 exempt), or $160. If a man earns $30,000 he would pay 1 per cent on $10,000, still, and 2 per cent on $10,000, thus making his annual tax $360. The person with $50,000 income would pay 1 per cent on $10,000 and 2 per cent on $40,000—a total tax of $700.

The man with an income of $100,000 would be required to pay 1 per cent on $10,000, 2 per cent on $30,000, and 3 per cent on $50,000, which would be $1,500, bringing his total income tax to $2,260. The individual with a net income of a million would pay this $2,260 on his first $100,000 and in addition he would pay 4 per cent on $900,000, which would bring his total tax to $38,260.

Re-Enacts Corporation Law. The bill also would re-enact the present corporation tax law imposing a 1 per cent tax on the earnings of corporations, stock companies, insurance companies and the like, but it would exempt partnerships. This is a flat tax, there being no graduated scale as the earnings increase. The few changes from the present corporation tax act concern chiefly the time for making returns and the time for collection.

The bill also includes under its provisions the property and earnings in this country of persons who live abroad. It is estimated by members of the ways and means committee that approximately $100,000,000 in revenue may be derived from this new tax, including the corporation tax, including the revenue because of the greatly reduced tariff rates.

Incomes of taxable persons shall include gains, profits and income derived from salaries, wages, or compensation for personal service of whatever kind and in whatever form paid, or from professional vocations, businesses, trade, commerce or sales or dealings in property; also from interest, rent, dividends, securities, including income from property, income but not the value of property acquired by bequest, and also proceeds of life insurance policies paid upon death of persons insured.

Provision Made for Deductions. The bill allows as deductions in computing net income all necessary expenses actually incurred in carrying on any business, not including personal, living or family expenses, interest accrued and payable within the year by a taxable person on indebtedness; all national, state, county, school and municipal taxes, including local benefit taxes, losses incurred in trade or from fire, storm, or shipwreck not compensated by insurance or otherwise; debts actually ascertained as worthless and charged.

going to Texas Dr. Lovett was instructor at West Kentucky College, the University of Virginia, the University of Chicago and Princeton University.

FREEDOM OF FARM LIFE.

After spending thirty years in offices in large cities, Abel Hewitt says that he has been given his freedom and is living contentedly on a farm in Butler township, Columbiana county. For twenty-two years Mr. Hewitt held positions with Chicago mercantile concerns, but never lost track of a great desire to own a farm of his own. His savings amassed slowly, but a year ago he was able to bring his wife and three children to the farm. Two boys are now attending a country high school and say that they have no desire to take up life in the city. "We want to be farmers but we want to have a good education along with our work, so that we will know why we are doing things," said one of the boys recently. The family has not lost its progressive attitude, born of experience in the city, and are closely identified with the social progress of the community in which they have made their home, having been prominently connected with the securing of a lecture by a representative of the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University.

THE POSTMAN

I wonder if the postman knows how he distributes joy and woes with every trip he makes? He plods along from door to door, makes one heart glad, another sore, and ties of friendship breaks. He brings a grist of urgent duties to those distressed and sad, and ones whose tails business mean; he trudges to the poet's home and brings him a rejected poem from a haughty magazine. Oh, all there is of grief and wrath he scatters as he takes his path along the village street; and heartaches, troubles and despair and things that change to white the hair, attend his toiling feet. And all there is of hope and bliss, the plighted vow the written kiss, he carries as he wends; the letter from a roaming boy, that fills a mother's heart with joy, the greetings from old friends, the rapture of the glowing bride, the requiem of those who died, he carries in his pack; the whole long tale of human things to every village door he brings as he pursues his track. I wonder if the postman dreams of all the little hopes and schemes he carries as he walks? Of all the yearnings and the fears, of all the torture and the tears the solaces and shocks?

Who's Chandler? They Asked. On the opening day a young man appeared for the first time in the house and nominated Victor Murdock for speaker. His name was Chandler, and he was credited to New York in the printed list of members. But before five minutes had elapsed the people were asking, "Who's this fellow Chandler?"

He talked too much, in the estimation of those who gauge oratory. He threatened too much, in the judgment of those who have heard oratorical thunderings before. But after he had gone the gamut of Progressive outpourings his Irish came out, and as the words flowed in easy blarney liquid everybody came to the conclusion that he had "gone across." Chandler had made good. He was the real thing as an orator, and although he had been somewhat flowery and the old timer would have put much of his stuff under the title of "slush," yet upon the whole he made a good cleanup. Mr. Chandler represents the Nineteenth New York district.

Underwood Scored First. By introducing his tariff bill on the first day of the session Underwood scored first, beating President Wilson to it, so to speak. As Wilson's message was all about the tariff and Underwood's bill was all tariff there can be no question of first blood for the young man from Alabama.

And why shouldn't Hal Cooper of Wisconsin get in the minority leader game? He received the votes of four men for speaker, four who were too progressive to vote for Jim Mann and not progressive enough to vote for Victor Murdock, Lemuel of Wisconsin and

THE BOOSTER

Dedicated to —
I would rather be a booster
Than a barn-yard rooster
Scratching the gravel from all the rest.
In summer he is busy
With his crowing makes you dizzy.
But in winter he will starve to do his best.

But the rooster that is saving
And for fame is not craving;
And helps the other fellow get along.
I will leave it to the rooster.
If he does not come out best,
Singing a happy gay old song.

And the rooster that's always
Crowing,
Picking everything he sees that's growing.
In winter has a sad old face.
The people get tired of his whin-ling.
And you'll soon find him declining
For in this world he has no place.

But the fellow that keeps on boosting
Whether he's on the gravel heap
or roosting
Is the fellow we want right here below
And when his earthly trials are all over.

With the capitals form a word to appropriately fill the blank in the following sentence: AND you ME, Dear to do it? 4. What is the tree that obeys you? 5. What is the difference between a sun-bonnet and a Sunday bonnet?

Answers. 1. Miserable. 2. Flattery. 3. Demand. 4. Dogwood. 5. A day's difference.

A Bit of Verse for Your Birthday. Yearn to the greatness of Nature? Itally the good in the depths of thyself.

—Matthew Arnold.

A Favorite Poem. Yes, death is at the bottom of the cup and everyone that lives must drink it up. And yet between the sparkle at the top and the black lees there lurks that bitter drop there skims enough good liquor. Heaven knows, to ease our hearts of all our other woes.

The bubbles rise in sunshine at the brim. That drop below is very far and dim. The quick fumes spread and shape us, such bright dreams, that in the glad delirium it seems. As though by some deft slight, if so we willed, that drop untasted might be somehow spilled.

—W. D. Howells.

News Items We Never See. "Militant suffragette says she made a mistake in blowing up House of Parliament."

"Girl, at altar, says she trapped man into proposing to her so she refuses to wed him."

"Intense interest was shown in the annual chess championship contest."

"No one cared who won the pennant in the National league."

"Not a single person was killed during the foregoing year in railroad accidents."

Nonsense Limerick. "There was a fair maiden of Siam Who said to her lover: 'Oh, Priam, You may kiss me, of course, But you've got to use force And I know that you're stronger than I am.'"

Who's Chandler? They Asked. On the opening day a young man appeared for the first time in the house and nominated Victor Murdock for speaker. His name was Chandler, and he was credited to New York in the printed list of members. But before five minutes had elapsed the people were asking, "Who's this fellow Chandler?"

He talked too much, in the estimation of those who gauge oratory. He threatened too much, in the judgment of those who have heard oratorical thunderings before. But after he had gone the gamut of Progressive outpourings his Irish came out, and as the words flowed in easy blarney liquid everybody came to the conclusion that he had "gone across." Chandler had made good. He was the real thing as an orator, and although he had been somewhat flowery and the old timer would have put much of his stuff under the title of "slush," yet upon the whole he made a good cleanup. Mr. Chandler represents the Nineteenth New York district.

Underwood Scored First. By introducing his tariff bill on the first day of the session Underwood scored first, beating President Wilson to it, so to speak. As Wilson's message was all about the tariff and Underwood's bill was all tariff there can be no question of first blood for the young man from Alabama.

Minority Leaders. "Majority Leader Underwood after a conference with Minority Leader Mann and Minority Leader Murdock," etc., as a recent paragraph read, shows that there is surplus of minority leaders in the house.

And why shouldn't Hal Cooper of Wisconsin get in the minority leader game? He received the votes of four men for speaker, four who were too progressive to vote for Jim Mann and not progressive enough to vote for Victor Murdock, Lemuel of Wisconsin and

CHATS WITH THINKING WOMEN by Barbara Boyd

Enlisting a Boy on the Side of Good

A MOTHER writes that she has a son, just at that age when he is hard to rule, who is inclined to evil associates. She says he gives little heed to her admonition as to where the course he is entering upon will lead him, and she is fearful that he will spoil his life. And she's anxious for suggestions as to what to do.

The writer of one of the most popular books of the past year or two showed a good understanding of boyish character and of the best way to influence a boy when he said:

"I want to teach boys that they are not individuals, not unrelated atoms in a random universe; but that they are links, every one of them, in a splendid chain that has been running since life began, and will run on to the end of time. I want them to understand that no chain is stronger than its weakest link, and this means them. I want every boy to realize his personal responsibility, and that when he doesn't do right, he is blocking the whole magnificent procession."

Make a boy feel that he is responsible for part of the world's progress, that if he drags or falls out or adds a weight, the march forward will be delayed by just that much, and he'll square his shoulders and take up with pride the responsibility put upon him. His manhood will be awakened, and he will begin to see that he can be of real use in the world; and there are few boys who will not respond to this incentive.

Many a boy thinks he can knock about any way he pleases, that he doesn't make any difference to anybody but himself, and is nobody's business. But if he is shown that what he does reaches out and affects the whole big family of mankind, that if he is helping make necessary a jail or a poorhouse, or is supporting a saloon, he is just by that much holding his own little community back, you are setting him to thinking in a big way that will in all probability arouse the good in him, and make him want to help pull instead of being a drag.

Then, too, this boy may have no attractive pleasures at home or among the right kind of people. A boy likes movement, life, action, jollity; and if he cannot get these things at home, the probability is, he will seek them elsewhere.

And again, the boy who is just entering the boundary into manhood dislikes the idea of being ruled. He usually can be lead, but seldom driven. This period is an exceedingly difficult one for the parents of some boys. And the best course is for the parent to become his chain and companion, rather than the school teacher or martinet. It is not always easy to play this part, especially if it is entirely new. But it is about the only way by which a mother can keep a guiding hand upon the course of such a boy as is here described.

MRS. A. A. SUTTON.

Clara M. Sutton wife of A. A. Sutton died at her home in Midway, O., April 10, 1913, aged 63 years and 17 days. Burial will be made at Granville, on Wednesday afternoon.

SOPHIA E. EICHELBARGER.

Sophia E. Eichelbarger was born in Buffalo, N. Y., February 8, 1851 and died at Seattle, Washington on April 3, 1913 at night. When a child she moved from Buffalo, N. Y. to Newark, Ohio and later resided in Missouri, from which place she moved again to Ohio. She went to Seattle, Wash., from Newark, Ohio, three years ago. September 15, 1871, she was married to Francis M. Eichelbarger. To this union were born two sons, Stanley O. and John Frederick, two daughters, Frances Bell and Bessie Adeline, the two daughters and one brother having preceded her to the Father's house. Her parents also have gone on before her. When still a young woman she gave her heart to God and united with the Methodist church, at White Chapel, on Hog Run, Ohio, to which faith she remained true to the very end. She is survived by her husband, Francis M. Eichelbarger, three sisters, Mrs. Joseph T. Hunt, Ada Carins and Rachael Williams, two brothers, Fredrick and Owen Harper. Two sons Stanley and Fredrick Eichelbarger and one adopted daughter, Edith Davis. She is now sleeping in beautiful Lake View cemetery, Seattle, Washington, waiting for the resurrection morning.

We wish to extend our thanks to our friends and neighbors for their kindness at the death of our son and brother Harold White, also Rev. D. M. Guy for the kind and sympathetic words, the choir for their singing and for the beautiful flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas White and family.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT THROUGH THE RIGHT EYE

Harvey Patterson, 35, a molder employed at the B. & O. shops will lose the sight of his right eye as a result of the accidental discharge of a rifle on a fishing trip with Messrs. Burke and Weekley. The accident occurred near the waterworks pumping station about 9 o'clock Monday morning.

The three men were shooting at a mark and Patterson had gone to set up the target. As he turned towards his companions, the gun was accidentally discharged. The 22-calibre bullet penetrated the right eye, passed through the lid, penetrated the flesh above the cheek bone and passed out of the cheek.

He was rushed to his home, 44 Wing street, where Drs. Legge, Postle and McClure attended him. His condition is regarded as serious, though he will probably recover from the wound. Mr. Patterson suffered much pain during the day.

COURT'S MERCY OF NO AVAIL

Theodore Hayes, under suspended sentence in the local common pleas court, was arrested Sunday night in Columbus by a patrolman, into whose arms he ran while trying to escape from the home of W. H. Nagle, East Cherry street, where he had entered apparently with burglarious intent. In his pockets were found silver spoons, knives and forks, taken from some home other than that of Nagle, as Hayes was discovered before he had time to steal anything of value.

Hayes was found in the home of Robert Curran in West Church street this city, last August, when Mrs. Curran returned home about 10 o'clock at night. He had stolen a number of articles of jewelry which were found in his pockets when placed under arrest by Headquarters Officer George M. Clure.

Hayes pleaded guilty to a burglary charge in common pleas court and drew a ten years' suspended sentence in the penitentiary.

Birthday Calendar

April 14

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

You should not waste time in trifles, but keep pushing steadily ahead, regardless of frivolous distractions. You will be benefited by friends who have hitherto remained in the background.

Those born today will have versatile talents and good judgment. They will make their way against obstacles and friends attracted by their good dispositions will greatly aid them.

Later, when the time for the bedtime story came, he told the children how the goldenrod came to be.

"Once upon a time," daddy said, "there was a fairy prince who was very, very good. He took great delight in flying all over the country on the back of a splendid big red and gold butterfly, visiting poor people and leaving good things at their doors."

"Of course the fairy prince did his best not to be seen, but one day he remained out too late on one of his errands of goodness, and a little girl spied him sailing overhead on his wonderful butterfly."

"Oh," she cried, "there goes the fairy with the good heart!" So ever afterward in that country the fairy was known as Prince Fairy of the Good Heart.

"Of course Prince Fairy of the Good Heart did not have to whip his butterfly flying horse to make him go fast or speak harshly to him. But he had a long golden staff with which he used to touch the butterfly gently on one side of the head or the other to show him the way in which he wanted to go."

"But one day Prince Fairy of the Good Heart had the misfortune to drop his golden staff. He was flying on an errand which needed him very much, for there was a sick child to be helped, and in such cases the prince let nothing stop him. He had a long way to go, too, but it was a straight road through the air, so he did not need the golden staff."

"However, on his way back he stopped the red and gold butterfly and got down to look for his golden staff. After searching for a time he found it. But it had changed in the meantime."

"It had fallen straight to the ground and had stuck there and taken root, becoming the beautiful flower which we now call the goldenrod. In front of it stood a little girl admiring very much the beautiful new flower, so Prince Fairy of the Good Heart decided not to pluck it, but to leave it for the folks of the earth. Since then every fall in many places the earth has been covered with the long, slender stalks of the goldenrod."

HEAVY REDUCTIONS ON NECESSARIES OF LIFE TO CUT LIVING COST

Income Tax to Supply Loss in Revenue—Raw Wool on the Free List and Duty on Sugar Greatly Reduced Rates Raised on Uncut Diamonds and Also on Furs—Representative Underwood's Statement Giving Changes in Detail.

Removal of all tariff from many articles of food and clothing, broad reductions in the rates of duty on all necessities of life, an increase of tariff on many luxuries, and a new income tax that would touch the pocket of every American citizen whose net income exceeds $4,000, are the striking features of the new democratic tariff revision bill, presented to the house of representatives in Washington.

Sugar would be free of duty in 1916, the bill proposing an immediate 25 per cent reduction and the removal of the remaining duty in 1916.

Raw wool would be made free at once, with a correspondingly heavy reduction in the tariff on all woolen goods.

Many Articles on Free List.

The following articles are put on the free list:

- Meats, flour, bread, boots and shoes, lumber, coal, harness, saddlery, iron ore, milk and cream, potatoes, salt, swine, corn, cornmeal, cotton bagging, agricultural implements, leather, wood pulp, bibles, printing paper not worth more than 2 1/2 cents per pound, typewriters, sewing machines, typesetting machines, cash registers, steel rails, fence wire, cotton ties, nails, hoop and band iron, fish, sulphur, soda, tanning materials, acetic and sulphuric acids, borax, lumber products including broom handles, clapboards, hubs for wheels, posts, laths, pickets, staves, shingles. These principal items are taken from the free list and taxed: Rough and uncut diamonds, precious stones, furs, coal tar products, 10 per cent; volatile oils, 20 per cent; spices, from 1 cent to 2 cents per pound.

Table of Comparative Rates.

Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee, in his statement accompanying the new tariff bill, gave the following comparative table, to show reductions in tariff duties made upon necessities. In each item, both the present tariff and the proposed tariff had been reduced to an ad valorem basis.

The new rates are estimated to reduce the customs revenue approximately $80,000,000 a year. This is expected to be made up by the income tax.

Measure Indorsed by President.

Indorsed by President Wilson, the measure represents the efforts of the president and house tariff makers to carry into effect democratic pledges of downward revision and of concessions to the American consumer.

Protection to the farmer would be cut throughout by more than 50 per cent in an effort to reduce the cost of food.

Protection to the steel and iron...

boards, other than cabinet wood, have been carried to the free list, while sawed cabinet wood, which were 1275 per cent in 1912, are now 10 per cent; casks, barrels, etc., which were 30 per cent, are now 14.77 per cent, and house furniture, which was 25 per cent, is now 15 per cent.

Tobacco and spirits have been found to be good producers of revenue, and have, therefore, been left at the same rates as in the present law.

Mitigate High Cost of Living.

In the effort to relieve the consumer and to mitigate the high and rising cost of living, schedule G, which deals with agricultural products, has been thoroughly revised and important reductions have been made. For instance, the duty on horses has been reduced from 25 per cent to 10 per cent, cattle from 25.07 per cent to 10 per cent, sheep from 16.41 per cent to 10 per cent, barley from 43.05 per cent to 26.67 per cent, fruits from 2.21 per cent to 15.38 per cent, figs from 51.53 per cent to 42.10 per cent, live poultry from 13.10 per cent to 6.67 per cent, and vinegar from 33.03 per cent to 17.39 per cent.

Other changes are in proportion, and the general effect has been to reduce in a very material proportion the heavy taxes upon imported foodstuffs.

In schedule I, dealing with cotton, comparisons of the principal items show reductions on cotton thread from 31.54 per cent to 19.29 per cent, on spool thread from 22.95 per cent to 15 per cent, on cotton cloth from 42.47 per cent to 26.69 per cent, on waterproof cloth from 50.56 per cent to 25 per cent, on ready-made clothing from 50 per cent to 30 per cent, on collars and cuffs from 64.03 per cent to 25 per cent, on plushes from 51.40 per cent to 40 per cent, on 30 per cent, on stockings from 75.30 per cent to 30 per cent, on gloves from 79.17 per cent to 35 per cent, on underwear from 40 per cent to 25 per cent.

Flax, Hemp and Products Cut.

Flax, hemp and their products have been similarly dealt with. Raw flax and ram hemp have been reduced from $22.40 and $22.50 per ton, respectively, to $11.20 each; jute yarns have been cut from 26.90 per cent to 15 per cent, cables and cordage from 6.43 per cent to 4.55 per cent, oilcloths for floors from 44.29 per cent to 15 per cent, handkerchiefs from 50 per cent to 35 per cent.

Schedule K, dealing with woools and woolen manufactures, has been the center of criticism for many years and the committee has given it very careful study. The result has been to make raw wool free of duty, to reduce yarns from 79.34 per cent to 20 per cent, blankets from 72.69 per cent to 25 per cent, flannels from 93.29 per cent to 25 and 35 per cent, dress goods from 99.70 per cent to 35 per cent, clothing from 79.56 per cent to 35 per cent, webbing, etc., from 82.7 per cent to 35 per cent, and carpets from rates ranging from 60 per cent to 82 per cent to rates ranging from 20 per cent to 35 per cent.

Reductions Made on Silk Goods.

Inasmuch as silk and silk goods are distinctly to be classed as luxuries, it has been deemed wise to make only very moderate reductions in the rates of duty.

Partially manufactured goods have been cut from 21.01 per cent to 15 per cent spun silk yarn from 37.09 per cent to 35 per cent sewing silk from 35 per cent to 15 per cent silk goods from 52.53 per cent to 50 per cent, silk handkerchiefs (plain) from 50 per cent to 40 per cent, ribbons from 50 per cent to 40 per cent, artificial silk yarns from 41.79 per cent to 35 per cent, and braids, embroideries and the like of artificial silk from 68.49 per cent to 60 per cent.

Print paper, whose cost of production is as low in this country under favorable conditions as it is anywhere in the world, has been transferred to the free list when worth less than 2 1/2 cents per pound, while the higher grades have been given a tariff of 12 per cent in place of 15.80 per cent.

Copying paper has been cut from 42.32 per cent to 30 per cent, bag envelopes, etc., from 49.92 per cent to 35 per cent, parchment papers from 47.92 per cent to 35 per cent, photographic paper from 28.99 per cent to 25 per cent, writing paper from 43.13 per cent to 25 per cent, common wrapping paper from 35 per cent to 25 per cent, and books from 25 per cent to 15 per cent.

Light Cut on Jewelry.

Trimmed hats are given only a moderate reduction, being cut from 50 per cent to 40 per cent, while brooms are substantially reduced, being cut from 40 per cent to 15 per cent. Jewelry has been but slightly reduced, falling from 75.74 per cent to 60 per cent.

A good illustration of the attitude adopted with respect to the application of the tariff is seen in the item, precious stones uncut, which are given a rate of 10 per cent notwithstanding they were on the free list under the act of 1909.

Where the tariff rates balance the difference in cost of production at home and abroad, including an allowance for the difference in freight rates, the tariff must be competitive.

from that point downward to the lowest tariff that can be levied will continue to be competitive to a greater or less extent.

Where competition is not interfered with by leaving the tax above the highest competitive point the profits of the manufacturers are not protected.

Protection of Profits.

On the other hand, when the duties levied at the custom house are high enough to allow the American manufacturer to make a profit before his competitor can enter the field, we have invaded the domain of the protection of profits.

The committee's judgment the protection of any profit justly necessary have a tendency to destroy competition and create monopoly, whether the profit protected is reasonable or unreasonable.

Which course is the wiser one for our government to take? The one that demands the protection of profits, the continued policy of hot-house growth for our industries—the stagnation of development that follows where competition ceases—or, on the other hand, the gradual reduction of our tariff to a basis where the American manufacturer must meet honest competition; where he must develop his business along the best and most economic lines; where, when he fights at home to control his market, he is forging the way in the economic development of his business to extend his trade in the markets of the world. The future growth of our great industries lies beyond the seas.

Loyal Are Rewarded, Rebels Doomed, Says Pastor Russell

PASTOR RUSSELL

TOLEDO, O., April 23.—Pastor Russell, widely known through his published sermons, is here today addressing Bible students, and also as usual, the public. Crowds seem anxious all ways to hear him. We report one of his discourses, from the text: "Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that He may exalt you in due time."—1 Peter 5:6.

The Pastor declared that the Bible everywhere holds up the Lord Jesus Christ as the glorious Pattern of what is most pleasing to the Heavenly Father, a Pattern therefore to be copied by all who would abide in God's favor. He reminded his hearers that there are certain steps necessary before any can come into the favor of God, and properly be called His children, or said to be under His supervisory and care, or be permitted to address Him in prayer, or to consider themselves heirs of His favors and blessings. This is made very clear by the Apostles and also by Jesus Himself, said the Pastor. The Apostles declare the necessity of an Advocate with the Father before any can approach Him, come into His presence or receive any favor from Him. Jesus expressed this same thought, saying: "No man cometh unto the Father, but by Me."

As a matter of fact, there are, a comparatively small proportion of humanity have any of God's favors at the present time, said the Pastor. But we rejoice in the breadth of the Message, which assures us that in God's "due time" all shall be brought to a knowledge of Messiah, and privileged through Him to enjoy the gift of God—everlasting life. But what is coming and what is here now are two different matters. No one has authority to make the Narrow Way a Broad Way, nor to say that many will find it when the Scriptures declare: "Few there be that find it." Our consolation is that this Narrow Way leads to special glory, honor, immortality and the Divine Nature, and will develop a special, elect class. Then subsequently, this select class will be used of the Lord in blessing the non-elect many with a great, but inferior blessing.

The Pastor demonstrated that his text relates not to the world in general, but merely to the consecrated few who during this Age bear the invitation, accept it, and become footstep followers of Jesus. These have their sins forgiven as a result of faith in the precious blood of Christ and of consecration to do the will of God. These then have the Redeemer as their Advocate with the Father, and are accepted in the Beloved as His brethren. These are the prospective members of the Bride of Christ, who by the Lord's grace may now suffer with their Redeemer in cross-bearing, and by and by share with Him His glorious Kingdom. These are begotten of the Father through the Holy Spirit, and thus become New Creatures in Christ. No longer are they to be classed as members of the human family, but as spiritual sons of God, of a new order, higher than the angels, but not yet perfected. Their perfecting cannot take place until their probationary trial shall have ended, and it will not end until death. In the glorious First Resurrection, therefore, these will be perfect, as sons of God on the Divine plane, associates and joint-heirs with their Lord and Redeemer.

To These Our Text Applies. These are exhorted to come with Meekness to the Throne of Heavenly Grace, to obtain mercy, and find grace to help in every time of need. These, and only these, may know that their prayers are always heard. As Jesus said, "Their messengers do always have access to My Father's presence." (Matthew 18:10). The exhortations of the Apostle are to these alone—not to the world.

In our context the Apostle holds up the Lord Jesus as the great Pattern of humility, the example for all of His followers, admonishing that they should walk in His steps, if they would have the Divine favor that He enjoys and attain with Him to joint-heirship in His glorious Kingdom. He was rich, yet in obedience to the Father's will He laid aside the riches of His Heavenly estate and became poor—merely appeared poor. He laid aside or divested Himself of His spirit son-ship and glory, and took instead human conditions.

From being above the angels, He of His own volition took a nature and place a little lower than the angels. And He did this, knowing it was only a preliminary step. He knew that the particular steps of self-denial and suffering were to follow. He humbled Himself to become a man, because a man—Adam—had sinned, and through him a race had come under sentence of death, and could not extricate itself, only an uncondemned man could redeem the condemned one. For this purpose Jesus left His glory, and "was found in fashion as a man."

The Logos did not become a sin-fallen man, a blemished or imperfect man, on the contrary, He was "holy, harmless, undefiled and separate from sinners." Otherwise, He could not have been the Redeemer. Being sinless, however, this perfect One would suffer all the more from the shame and ignominy connected with the mission He undertook.

As it was not a babe, but a man that had sinned and was to be redeemed, therefore Jesus needed to wait until He reached manhood's estate—thirty years—before He could begin His mission. Promptly at thirty He made His consecration, and symbolized it by water immersion at Jordan. Then, He went forth declaring the Message which He knew would be misunderstood. The Message of God's Love, the Message that there must be a sacrifice for sin, the Message that He was the Sin-Offspring, the Message that as a result of that Sin-Offspring, blessed fruit and "eternity" would come, in the Millennial Kingdom, which would bless all the families of the earth.

As He foreknew, mankind, even the best prepared—the Jewish people—were not ready for the Message. Thus, as He foresaw and as the Scriptures foretold, they crucified Him—ignorantly—for as St. Paul declares: "Had they known it they would not have crucified the Lord of glory." (1 Corinthians 2:8). St. Paul reminds us that we should consider Christ's undeservedness of persecution, lest we should be "weary and faint in our minds." Similar experiences must to some extent come upon us. And if He who was perfect endured patiently, we who are imperfect may well exercise great patience. And so in our text the exhortation is that we perceive how Jesus humbled Himself, and that we should think it a great privilege and pleasure similarly to experience humiliations.

The Rewards of Humility and Loyalty. No doubt the Logos, "the Beginning of the Creation of God," the "First-born of every creature," the one by whom all things were made, had such loyalty to the Father that He would have been obedient, even had no reward been attached to the invitation given Him. But, on the other hand, it would not have been consistent with kindness, love or justice for the Father to demand of His Son such a sacrifice. Justice can make no such demand. And if Love makes such a suggestion, it should properly back up the suggestion with some promise of special favor or blessing. According to the Apostle, God did just this. He informed His Son that He would appreciate such a sacrifice, and set before Him a joy, a hope.

The Apostle does not explain the details of that hope, but we may infer them: (1) The joy of the Father's blessing in a superlative sense. (2) The joy of bringing many sons of God to the plane of glory as His Bride class. (3) The joy of rescuing the world of mankind from sin, sickness, sorrow, pain, death, and of uplifting, or resurrecting all the willing and obedient of the race to human perfection, and all that was lost by Adam. (4) An exaltation to a still higher station than that which He had left. He would be made partaker of the Divine nature, far above angels, principalities and powers, and above His own previous high station as the Only Begotten of the Father, the Logos—the Word.—John 1:1-3.

Here we are, dear brethren, with the Apostle's words and the full scope of his inspired testimony before us. He tells us that if we desire to be of the glorious Class of more than conquerors, who will be honored by the Redeemer, we must humble ourselves to the doing of the Divine will to the best of our ability, as our Redeemer humbled Himself to do the Father's will perfectly. Not that the Father will accept anything less than perfection, but that our Redeemer will make up to us by the imputation of His righteousness for all that which we lack through our share in Adam's fall and its consequence. In other words, if we have the same loyalty of heart that the Master had, we will do what we can, and so doing shall be acceptable to the Father, through the Son.

Satan's Course in Contrast. Notice, now, the contrast between Satan's course and that of the Lord Jesus. Satan took the opposite course from that which the Redeemer took. Instead of humbling himself, willing to do everything that would be pleasing to the Father, he was proud, haughty, and sought to exalt himself. Lucifer was rich before his rebellion, before he became Satan, the adversary of God. Yet he was not so rich, had not so high a station, as the Logos, who was the very chief of all of God's creation, through whom the Divine energy operated in the creation of all things that were made.

Mark well the course of pride, that led to Satan's sin, and will ultimately lead to his degradation and destruction. Mark well also the course of Jesus, as it led Him through obedience to humiliation, and then to the highest glory. Which example shall we follow? Which fate will be ours? Shall we in humility walk in the footsteps of our Redeemer, and become His joint-heirs in His glory, honor and immortality? or shall we take the other course of pride, and thus become disciples of the Adversary, and learn of him, and reach his doom—destruction in the Second Death?

The Apostle intimates that God tests us upon certain general lines, general principles operating His Government. "He that bumbleth himself shall be exalted, and he that exalteth himself shall be abased." Beloved hearers, it seems to me that, with these illustrations before us, it would be folly for us to permit the seeds of pride or personal ambition to take root in our hearts. Let us be diligent on the outlook to eradicate everything of the kind, and be close students of our Master, copying His course.

There is a reason behind every Divine command and regulation. Men may make arbitrary rules and conditions without justifiable cause, but we may be sure that the great Creator has a good reason for His every act and requirement. In the present case, we can readily discern the necessity for the Divine requirement of humility. The Lord Jesus and His Church are invited by the great Jehovah to the very highest position in the universe, next to Himself. Such an exaltation would be dangerous to any one possessed of a spirit of pride or selfish ambition. Who can tell at what time the smoldering fire might break into a blaze and cause confusion and disorder?

Consider Satan's case. What might have been the result had he been entrusted with so high a position as that now occupied by the glorified Jesus? There would have been genuine rebellion in Heaven of the kind Milton so foolishly imagined. How we can see the wisdom of the Almighty in testing those whom He would exalt to His own Divine nature! Even His well-beloved Son was required to demonstrate His faithfulness and loyalty unto death—"even the [agonizing] death of the cross." So the Apostle says that it became God, "in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the Captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings"—to prove Him perfect by the things which He suffered—to demonstrate that the things which He had always professed and had always done, expressed the sentiment of His heart in the fullest and most absolute sense.

Thus again we read, "Though He were a Son, yet learned He obedience by the things which He suffered." (Hebrews 5:8). Again we read that it was because of His faithfulness that God highly exalted Him and gave Him a name above every name. If this was necessary in the case of our Redeemer, before the Father could properly so highly exalt Him, what shall we say of His followers? Surely we must agree to the necessity for most thorough testing, proving, demonstrating, the loyalty of the Church before they could be made partakers of the Divine nature and sharers of that Heavenly glory.—2 Peter 1:4.

This is the import of our text: Remember the heights, the glories of the Heavenly calling which you have received of God through Christ! Remember that you were by nature a child of wrath, even as others! Remember that once you were alienated from God through wicked works! Remember that God is working in you to will and to do His good pleasure, to develop in you the character pleasing to Himself! Remember that unless this work of grace go on in your heart day by day, it will not be accomplished! Remember that unless it be accomplished, you will not be fit for a place in the Kingdom! Remember that God has predestinated that only such as demonstrate that at heart they are copies of His Son can ever be His joint-heirs in the Kingdom; and remember that in all this we see the force of the text: "Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that He may exalt you in due time."

Our trials and difficulties, our stumblings and repentances, our vows to the Lord, and our endeavors to keep these, are parts of the great humbling process necessary to our exaltation.

Trials and Temptations Necessary. When we get the proper focus on this subject of the calling and election of the Church, it clarifies everything. We see now that if we could escape trials and difficulties and testings, we would escape the necessary schooling experience, and be unfit for our graduation, unfit for a share in the First Resurrection. It takes us some time to get this proper view of matters, even as when we were school children, it required much time for us to learn the lesson that to be helped with an answer or to be exempt from a lesson or to have a holiday were all disadvantages. A sufficient number of such failures to learn our lessons properly would mean our ineptness for examination day. We have entered God's great training school. His great Teacher is our dear Redeemer, to whom we are indebted. Every lesson in the course is necessary for our polishing and preparation for the glories to follow.

In this school everything depends upon ourselves. The arrangements are all of God and therefore perfect. The great Teacher will not fail in His duty toward us. The results, therefore, are with ourselves. If we learn the lessons, we shall surely be graduated, and be presented before our Heavenly Father and the holy angels with honor and glory. But if we fail to learn the lessons necessary, we shall have only ourselves to blame. Indeed, from the viewpoint which we shall have beyond the veil, we surely would not want a place for which we were not prepared, and God would not give it to us. In this entire matter, therefore, we see that God is operating His elections, selections, instructions and final approvals along the lines of absolute justice, fairness, impartiality—not favoritism.

QUESTION CLEARED UP.

Newark Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence.

Again and again we have read of strangers in distant towns who have been cured by this or that medicine. But Newark's pertinent question has always been "Has anyone here in Newark been cured?" The word of a stranger living a hundred miles away may be true, but it cannot have the same weight with us as the word of our own citizens whom we know and respect, and whose evidence we can easily prove.

Richard Conley, 24 Bowers Ave., Newark, Ohio, says: "I had backache and my kidneys were weak. The kidney secretions contained sediment. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from A. F. Clayton & Co.'s drug store, and it did not take them long to bring me complete relief."

OHIO STATERS START IN SPITE OF THE FLOOD

Despite the fact that every club in the Ohio State league suffered more or less from the flood, the organization will start on May 8, the original date set with all of the original eight clubs facing the barrier, according to statements by league officials. While some of the clubs in the flood zone suffered pretty severe losses, all are ready and anxious for the opening. With five new cities operating and many new faces both in the playing and managerial positions, interest in the organization is greater than ever.

From every city in the circuit comes word that conditions are fast getting in shape for the opening of the season and some of the clubs will have their players report next week. Altogether the prospect for the league is the brightest in the history of the organization.

The park is to be located at the Covington end of the bridge and only eight minutes from the business center of Cincinnati.

All of the owners talked optimistically of the future of the league.

OHIO ELECTRIC CO. DONATES ITS SERVICE

President Schmitt of the Ohio Electric Highway company has advised the F. W. L. of Columbus that he will make no charge for the transportation of boats from the lake to Columbus during the recent flood.

B. J. Jones of Springfield, general manager of the company, happened to be in Columbus at the time of the flood, and W. F. L. Moore, Springfield, happened to be in Columbus at the time of the flood, and they both reported, directed the loading of the boats on the cars and their immediate transportation to Columbus.

The staff in the traction office stuck to their posts during the night until the transportation work was done. Precedence was given over everything else in getting the boats through from the lake.

The boatmen from Bayview, Lake rendered valuable service in rescuing Columbus people and the saving of property.
